FRAUD ALERT: PEER-TO-PEER (P2P) MOBILE PAYMENT APPS

Do you use peer-to-peer (P2P) mobile payment apps such as CashApp, Venmo, and Zelle? P2P apps are designed to simplify financial transactions between people who know and trust each other, like splitting the check at dinner or sending utility bill payments to a roommate. Unlike traditional debit and credit cards, payment app services often lack the same fraud protections. We have important reminders for you to keep your accounts safe and avoid being scammed:

- Review the app's fraud protection policies and understand whether and how you can recover funds if a problem arises.
- Always verify the recipient's information before making payment & never send or accept payments from someone you don't know.
- Never provide sensitive personal information over the phone.
- Legitimate customer support operations will not ask for your bank account information.

MORE FRAUD PREVENTION TIPS:

Consumer scams happen on the phone, through the mail, text message, e-mail, or over the Internet. They can occur in person, at home, or at a business.

1. Don't share numbers or passwords for accounts, credit cards, or Social Security.
2. Never pay up front for a promised prize. It's a scam if you are told that you must pay fees or taxes to get a prize or other financial windfall.
3. After hearing a sales pitch, take time to compare prices. Ask for information in writing and read it carefully.
4. Too good to be true? If it sounds too good to be true, it probably is.
5. Watch out for deals that are only "good today" and that pressure you to act quickly. Walk away from high-pressure sales tactics that don't allow you time to read a contract or get legal advice before signing.
6. Put your number on the National Do Not Call Registry. Go to www.donotcall.gov or call (888) 382-1222.
